SENATOR PAGE ADMITS CORRECTNESS OF COM'R. WILLIAMS' STATEMENT OF FACT! THE LAW OF THE CASE!

HIS ADMISSION:

Quoting from Senator Page's signed advertisement:

"For several years, as Mr. Williams states, I personally paid out of my own pocket from $1,000 to $2,000 a year, rather than have in our own bank a dollar of paper that was not predicated either upon a Vermont security or a first-class Vermont name. I am glad Mr. Williams has made clear this fact, because it might have been difficult to make the public believe that I would make so large a sacrifice to maintain my personal view with reference to out-of-state loans."

THE LAW

Let's read the law, Senator Page, regarding the receiving of a commission by a bank official:

"No officer, trustee, director or employee of a bank shall receive any fee, present, benefit or commission directly or indirectly, from a borrower or applicant for a loan or from anyone negotiating securities at the institution or company of which he is an officer, trustee, director or employee; nor shall he receive any fee, present, benefit or commission, directly or indirectly, for signing with another as accommodation maker, surety or indorser, or for a loan made or securities bought and sold by such institution or company, except the benefit or profit he may derive in common with other depositors or stockholders, and the compensation allowed by such institution or company for services and expenses."—Section 26, act 158, laws of Vermont, 1910.

Were you ignorant of the law, Senator Page?

Is it not true that when you paid the directors of your bank $1,000 to $2,000 a year out of your pocket for their indorsement on paper that you were violating the law, Senator Page?

Quoting from Bank Commissioner Williams' statement of Senator Page's banking methods:

"I ascertained that two of the directors of the bank had guaranteed the amount of these out of state loans under an arrangement with Senator Page by which he paid them from his own pocket a commission for their guarantees, and he insisted that it was a perfectly proper thing to do; that it made the loans Vermont loans, and that the bank had a right under those circumstances to advertise that all its investments were made in Vermont, either upon real estate loans or with two good Vermont names. I insisted that under the law the directors had no right to guarantee such loans in such amounts, and that the practice must be stopped."

Have you not in your reply to Mr. Williams admitted this charge made against you, Senator Page?

The following is taken from Mr. Williams' expose of Senator Page and his banking methods:

"I found that the Lamoille County Savings Bank & Trust company had been investing in real estate mortgages outside Vermont for several years, the amount at that time being something over one-quarter of a million dollars and was advertising under the slogan, 'All in Vermont.' I insisted that under the law the directors had no right to guarantee such loans in such amounts, and that the practice must be stopped, both as to guaranteeing the loans by the directors, and as to the form of the bank's advertisements; that the other directors whose indebtedness was excessive must reduce it to the legal limit, and was assured that I should have no cause for criticism in those matters in the future."

Is there anything wrong in the above statement, Senator Page? If so will you make a straight denial?

Did your directors at your request and for the consideration paid by you indorse loans in excess of $10,000? In so doing did you violate the law, Senator Page?

The following section is taken from the banking law of Vermont:

"No loan shall be made to an officer, director or employee of any trust company without the written consent of a majority of the directors; and such loan shall not at any one time, directly or indirectly, exceed five per cent. of the capital stock actually paid in, but the discount of bona fide bills of exchange drawn against existing values, and the discount of commercial or business paper actually owned by such director, officer or employee negotiating the same to an amount not exceeding ten thousand dollars or a loan upon a pledge of any of the securities which are legal investments and subject to the restrictions thereof to an amount not exceeding the same sum, shall not be prohibited by this section. No loan shall be made by such corporation upon its own stock as collateral." Section 71, act No. 158, laws of Vermont, 1910.

In the banking business twenty-five years, and will you say you are not familiar with this law, Senator Page?

Senator Page in his advertisement says: "But the time arrived in October, 1914, when the board of directors, following Mr. Williams' advice, decided to open the bank's doors to out-of-state loans. I reluctantly yielded to this on the condition that the bank should complete a quarter of a century without loaning a dollar of paper that was not based either on a Vermont security or first-class Vermont name."

Do you intend to state, Senator Page, that your bank did not make out-of-the-state loans before October, 1914?

On November 13, 1912, Mr. Williams wrote the vice-president of the Lamoille County Savings Bank & Trust company as follows:

"You will remember that you very frankly told me that you had overstepped the law in the matter of endorsements and guarantees of out of state loans and while you did not, I think, fully admit it, the result of your statement induced me to think that officers of the bank had been receiving what in law would amount to a commission for placing loans, although your method was such as possibly to avoid that charge."

How do you reconcile your statement of not having made out of the state loans until October, 1914, Senator Page?
